Charting a Course for the Future

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A little more than a year ago, Monroe County Community College celebrated its 50th anniversary. As we honored our storied history, we also began preparing for the college's next 50 years.

That preparation culminated in 2014-15 with the completion of numerous initiatives and projects to chart a course for the college's future direction. The goal is to constantly evolve with the times, adapt to changing needs and continue a record of excellence and service.

Last year, MCCC updated its mission and vision and completed two extensive college-wide planning initiatives – a new strategic plan and the college's first-ever enrollment management plan. The latter was a result of the college's heavy focus on addressing decreasing enrollment following years of record growth. As part of these enrollment efforts, MCCC launched a new advertising campaign featuring successful alumni and a specific, short-term "triage" plan aimed at stabilizing enrollment as quickly as possible.

Also in 2014-15, the college finalized the integration of new general education requirements into all of its degree programs, approved a new model of governance, made several major campus repairs, and began working with Ameresco, a leading energy efficiency and renewable energy services provider, to significantly reduce the overall cost of installing a geothermal heating and cooling system throughout campus. This highly efficient geothermal system will provide major benefits such as a long life cycle, lower annual operating costs and improved comfort.

Despite an unsuccessful campaign last year for an additional tax levy for operations – the first attempt in 34 years – the college continued ongoing aggressive cost containment efforts while simultaneously working to meet current community needs and ready itself for the challenges that lie ahead.

I invite you to turn the page to find out more about many of MCCC's accomplishments in the past year, as well as how we are preparing for what the future holds for the college and the community.

Charting a Course for the Future

In 2014-15, Monroe County Community College completed numerous initiatives and projects to chart a course for the college's future direction and ready itself for future challenges. The goal is to constantly evolve with the times, adapt to changing needs and continue a record of excellence and service.

COLLEGE UPDATES MISSION AND VISION; ADOPTS NEW STRATEGIC PLAN

Throughout 2014-15, Monroe County Community College continued its comprehensive, campus-wide review of the college's mission and vision and development of a new strategic plan to lead it into the future. Teams consisting of a cross-section of individuals from all areas of campus reviewed each of the five existing strategic planning initiatives and recommended measurable objectives and associated tactics. The teams also noted the resources – personnel and economic – required for implementing each tactic. After opportunities for input from all college employees, the Board of Trustees adopted the 2014-17 Strategic Plan and approved the college's new mission documents in April. Below are the updated mission and vision statements:

- ▶ Mission: MCCC enriches and transforms lives by providing opportunity and excellence in higher education.
- ▶ Vision: MCCC will be an innovative and progressive higher education institution and our community's first choice for quality post-secondary education.

A STRONG FOCUS ON STUDENT RECRUITMENT, ENROLLMENT AND RETENTION

After peaking at an all-time high in 2010, MCCC's enrollment has declined over the last five years. In response, the college is focusing heavily on evaluating the causes of decreasing enrollment and identifying appropriate interventions that support continued adherence to its mission. Efforts to evaluate and address declining enrollment are being addressed by the college's new Enrollment Management Plan that was developed last year and is now being implemented. It focuses on student recruitment, retention and success. In addition, declining enrollment was addressed by the launch of the new "I Got MY Start at MCCC" marketing communications campaign and the development and implementation of a Fall 2015 Enrollment Triage Plan.

The new advertising campaign, which was developed by the Office of Marketing and Communications, was created mostly in-house and features numerous MCCC alumni now working in high-profile careers. It continues to run in cable, digital, print and outdoor mediums. The campaign has received very positive word-of-mouth feedback from employees and community members and generated thousands of social media hits.

The Fall 2015 Enrollment Triage Plan was launched in April to affect enrollment in the short term and included research and audience identification efforts, data capture of potential students at the point of inquiry for follow up, and a number of enrollment-driving campaigns to select audiences such as prospective, "returning" and current students. The various campaigns featured multiple direct mail postcards, emails and telephone calls.

NEW GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FINALIZED

In 2014-15, MCCC finalized integrating new general education requirements into degree programs. General education unites students from diverse areas of study in the pursuit of knowledge that community college graduates should possess. At MCCC, general education courses are the foundation of each associate degree. The college now has six general education competencies that reflect its educational objectives: Natural Sciences, Writing, Human Experience, Mathematics, Computer Literacy and Social Systems. MCCC graduates are now required to demonstrate competency in the six areas, regardless of their degree program.

ATTEMPT AT ADDITIONAL TAX LEVY UNSUCCESSFUL; ANOTHER PROPOSAL BEING EXPLORED

Monroe County voters did not approve an additional property tax levy for MCCC in November 2014. It was the college's first request of an additional tax levy for operations in 34 years. Aggressive cost containment efforts have been underway at MCCC since 2008 to offset critical decreases to its funding streams. These efforts continue today due to basically flat state appropriations and property tax revenues following years of declines. The college is currently exploring another tax levy proposal in the future.

NEW COUNCIL MODEL OF SHARED GOVERNANCE APPROVED

After a three-year pilot, and with the support of all three councils – Administrator, Faculty and Support Staff – and the president, the Council Model of Shared Governance became MCCC's permanent model of governance in 2015. The purpose of MCCC's Council Model is to organize internal constituent groups to promote open communication, deliberate college matters and convey recommendations to the college president.

A SUSTAINABLE, ENERGY-EFFICIENT CAMPUS HVAC SYSTEM

In the spring of last year, MCCC began working with Ameresco, one of the leading energy efficiency and renewable energy services providers, to significantly reduce the overall cost of installing a geothermal heating and cooling system throughout campus. The key benefits to the college of replacing its antiquated HVAC equipment with geothermal are the system's long life cycle, lower annual operating costs and improved comfort. Ameresco provides a simple solution to a big challenge facing facilities managers today: how to get the infrastructure upgrades needed at a time when budgets are too tight. Through "Energy Savings Performance Contracting," the company leverages the cost savings from energy-efficient equipment to provide capital to renew facilities and building systems.

REPAIRS COMPLETED ON CELLAR, LIFE SCIENCES BUILDING

- ▶ The Cellar Remediation Project was completed in fall 2014. The Cellar is a student gathering space in the Warrick Student Services/Administration Building that was damaged by frequent flooding. The project included removing existing floor finishes and trenching around the entire perimeter of the space, followed by the installation of new drainage tile and a sump pump. After the floor slab was repaired, a liquid vapor barrier was installed over the entire project area and new floor finishes were installed. Additionally, all the walls were painted and the soft furniture in the Cellar area was reupholstered.
- ▶ The Life Sciences Building Tuck-Pointing/Masonry Repair Project was also completed in fall 2014. New through-wall masonry flashing was installed along the entire north and south sides of the mechanical penthouse where it meets the second floor roof. This project included installing new brick, as needed, and cleaning and painting all exposed structural steel that was corroded where the new flashing was installed. Flashing was added to all masonry mechanical well walls, and they were painted.

Accessible and Flexible

Since its founding in 1964, MCCC has been here for people from all walks of life who are pursuing their dreams through higher education. The key is our ability to remain accessible and flexible to the needs of the individual student.

MCCC COURSES OFFERED AT MONROE HIGH SCHOOL

In September 2014, MCCC successfully launched a direct college program at Monroe High School that allows MHS students to take MCCC courses without ever leaving the high school. About 80 students were enrolled in four courses: Computer Science, English, Sociology and General Psychology.

MORE THAN 60 COLLEGES ON DISPLAY AT MCCC

In October 2014, the Monroe County Counselors and MCCC hosted College Night in the Welch Health Education Building. Admissions representatives from more than 60 colleges and universities were available to answer questions and provide information about their respective institutions. Grant, loan and scholarship professionals were also in attendance.

MCCC HOSTS CAREER AND OPPORTUNITY EXPO

Monroe County Community College hosted a Career and Opportunity Expo in March. The job fair was designed to bring together students, colleges, employers, veterans and community members. In addition to highlighting employment opportunities for the community, the expo specifically focused on available resources for our returning service members.

LIBRARY OFFERS REMOTE ACCESS TO FULL E-BOOKS

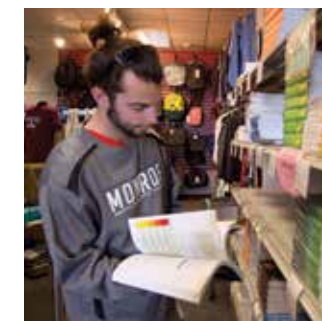

Last year, the MCCC Library's new SirsiDynix Enterprise software went live. The Library's Web presence now provides remote access to full-text electronic books through EBSCO.

A DAY TO RECOGNIZE STUDENT VOLUNTEERISM AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

In fall 2014, the MCCC Bookstore hosted National Student Day. This day was organized by the National Association of College Stores to recognize and encourage volunteerism and social responsibility among students. It was an opportunity for the Bookstore to give back while promoting a sense of community on campus.

NEW GLOBAL STUDIES DEGREE DESIGNATION ANNOUNCED

Dr. Joanna Sabo, professor of political science, last year led the development of a new degree enhancement now offered at MCCC called the Global Studies Degree Designation. Students in all majors can now earn this designation and have it added to their transcript if they take certain electives from an internationalized curriculum.

BOOKSTORE OFFERS COST-SAVING BOOK RENTAL OPTION TO STUDENTS

The MCCC Bookstore offered an in-store book rental program for the first time in fall

2014. The program is a partnership with Follett Campus Resources. Students rented a total of 331 textbooks – both new and used – which provided a savings of $14,000 overall.

EXPLORING CAREERS IN APPLIED SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

Middle and high school students and their parents, career-changing adults and others interested in experiencing what it is like to study and work in the skilled trades programs offered at MCCC got that opportunity in fall 2014. At X-TECH, participants experienced what it is like to virtual weld, run robots by FANUC America, draw with SolidWorks design software, test steel strength, program electronic equipment and more. In addition, they got to view demonstrations by industry representatives and tour the college's new automotive service lab.

Practical, Personal Learning

At Monroe County Community College, the focus is on practical application so students are prepared to meet the demands of the work environment of the new economy. The college provides students with hands-on, personal experience and the mentorship of dedicated faculty members.

HEAD OF AMERICAN WELDING SOCIETY VISITS MCCC

Dean R. Wilson, president of the American Welding Society, an organization with nearly 70,000 members worldwide, visited Monroe County Community College in fall 2014. The visit was sponsored by the college's Applied Science and Engineering Technology Division and took place in the student concourse of the Career Technology Center. Wilson spoke with faculty, staff, students and community members about the continued credentialing of AWS programs and toured the college's new welding lab.

BACCHUS SOCIETY, CULINARY STUDENTS CRUSH GRAPES FOR THE COMMUNITY

In recognition of Michigan Community Colleges Week, MCCC presented the first-ever MCCC Bacchus Community Crush – on-demand, automated grape crushing and destemming – in fall 2014. The event, which was free and open to the public, took place in the new MCCC wine lab, located in the West Technology Building. It was made possible by the MCCC Bacchus Society with funding, in part, from The Foundation at MCCC.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES CLUB, MCCC LIBRARY SPONSOR CHINESE WRITING EXHIBITION

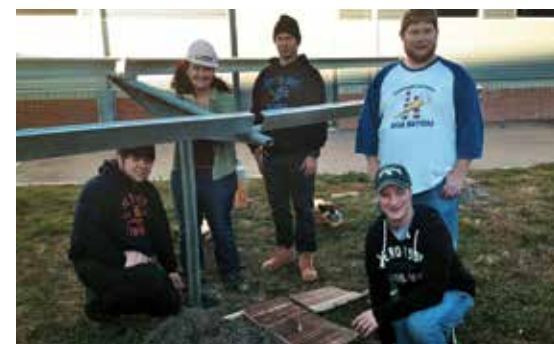

In January, the International Studies Club and the MCCC Library sponsored a month-long exhibition entitled "The Genesis of Chinese Writing and the Art of Calligraphy." The exhibit, which was presented by the Midwest Institute for International-Intercultural Education to promote appreciation for and understanding of the arts and culture of China, was housed in the Library. It included 12 large panels depicting the long history of Chinese writing and a collection of 16 calligraphy works by He BingWu, a master artist who is director of the Institute of Ancient Texts at the Academy of Social Sciences in Xian, Shaanxi Province, China.

MCCC STUDENTS DESIGN, INSTALL SOLAR ARRAY ON CAMPUS

At the end of the Fall 2014 Semester, students in Alex Babycz's renewable energy class flipped the switch on a 2.1-kilowatt solar array they designed and installed next to the Career Technology Center. Students Jacob Boes, Lisa Whiteside, Nikko Amaya, Bradly Greer and Nickolas Gaynier – with the assistance of Derek Whitaker, a retired DTE Energy engineer and local electrical inspector – performed all aspects involved in bringing the solar array to fruition, including planning the system, excavating the site, installing the ground mounting rack donated by Patriot Solar Group, mounting the panels and connecting all of the components to the CTC.

ELECTRIC CAR DISPLAYED AT NORTH AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL AUTO SHOW

MCCC's Formula SAE (Society for Automotive Engineers) electric car was displayed at the 2015 North American International Auto Show at COBO Center in Detroit, which ran from January 17-25. The car was designed and fabricated by students enrolled in programs housed in the Applied Science and Engineering Technology Division, including automotive engineering technology, electronics and computer technology, mechanical design technology and mechanical engineering technology. It was displayed alongside the Innovation Track sponsored by Shell.

INNOVATIVE PROJECTS THAT ENHANCE THE EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE

In April, The Foundation at Monroe County Community College announced the recipients of the 2015 Enhancement Grants Program awards. These awards assist faculty, staff and students by providing funding for the development and implementation of innovative projects that support the MCCC mission and enrich or improve the quality of education for students. A total of $22,500 was awarded to 20 projects. The 20 funded projects and their recipients included:

- Career and Opportunity Expo, Barry Kinsey, director of workforce development
- Student Commons Seating, Jesiqua Hutchison of the MCCC Service Club
- MCCC Prelude, Catherine Brodie, Agora Chorale director

- The Agora, 2015 College Media Association National Convention, Dan Shaw, assistant professor of humanities and journalism
- MIAEYC Early Childhood Conference, Felice Moorman, assistant professor of early childhood education
- Michigan Society for Respiratory Care's Annual Sputum Bowl Trivia Contest, Nicholas Prush, director of respiratory therapy
- Heart and Lung Dissection Presentations to Monroe County Elementary and Middle School Children, Bonnie Boggs, retired director of respiratory therapy
- One Book One Community of Monroe County, Cheryl Johnston, assistant professor of reading and English
- Micro-Entrepreneurship - Starting a Small Business, David Reiman, assistant professor of business
- National Student Day, Jean Ford, director of auxiliary services and purchasing
- VEX Robotics Event, applicant Michael Mohn, adjunct professor for manufacturing technology
- Southeast Michigan and Northwest Ohio SolidWorks User Group, Dr. Dean Kerste, professor of mechanical design technology

- Pride Prom, MCCC Gay/Straight Alliance and Dr. Melissa Grey, assistant professor of psychology
- Bacchus Society and Construction Technology Management Micro-Barn Project, Chef Kevin Thomas, instructor of culinary skills; Alex Babycz, assistant professor of construction management technology; and Mark Spenoso, MCCC Bacchus Society chairman
- Math and Science Society (MASS) Field Trip to Explore Science, Math and History in Washington D.C., Lori Bean, associate professor of biology and chemistry
- Marketing Pizazz for Global Studies, Dr. Joanna Sabo, professor of political science
- Constitution Day Show, Deminique Heiks, instructor of criminal justice
- EmpowerMent, Vuncia Council, Learning Bank coordinator, and Dr. Joyce Haver, professor of counseling
- MCCC Family Fun Night, Tom Ryder, campus community events/student services coordinator
- Grand Rapids ArtPrize Field Trip, Cheryl Johnston, assistant professor of reading and English, and Dr. William McCloskey, professor of English

Valuing Diversity and Cultural Enrichment

Through course offerings, campus and community events, student and group activities, and other initiatives, MCCC is committed to diversity and cultural enrichment.

CULTURE AND CURRENT AFFAIRS SPEAKERS SERIES ADDRESSES VARIETY OF KEY TOPICS

MCCC's Culture and Current Affairs Speakers Series, which features MCCC faculty, staff, students, alumni and community members with expertise on a variety of cultural, political or social topics of importance and interest, covered a wide variety of prevalent news items in 2014-15. Among them were presentations or panel discussions on these topics:

- ▶ "The U.S. Response to ISIS"
- ▶ "Ferguson and Beyond"
- ▶ The Wounded Knee massacre
- ▶ Problems facing Native Americans today
- ▶ "The Horrors of Human Trafficking"
- ▶ "An Honest Community Conversation about Race Relations"
- ▶ "Religious Freedom or Discrimination?"

AN ECLECTIC LINEUP OF EVENTS FOR THE COMMUNITY

In 2014-15, MCCC hosted a diverse group of comedic, musical and theatrical performances, as well as cultural and community events. Among them were acts such as singer/songwriter, pianist and national radio host Jim Brickman, The Highwaymen Live: A Musical Tribute, MCCC College/Community Symphony Band, Agora Chorale, MCCC's Prelude Children's Chorus, Gilbert Gottfried, River Raisin Ragtime Revue and many more.

MCCC HONORS DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. WITH MARCH, DIVERSITY FAIR

MCCC celebrated the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his contributions to racial justice and equality with an on-campus demonstration/march followed by the college's annual Diversity Fair. The events were sponsored by the college's Diversity Committee and took place on the Main Campus on Dr. Martin Luther King Day, which is Jan. 19. The Diversity Fair was held in the Warrick Student Services/Administration Building and showcased various dimensions of diversity. Several MCCC student clubs were represented, as well as Islamic, Native American and African American cultures, and international desserts were served.

CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH

In honor of Black History Month in February, Monroe County Community College hosted several presentations and an African art display in February. The presentations included:

- ▶ "European Slavery in Africa" and "Vocational or Liberal Arts for African Americans: A Historical Perspective," both by President Dr. Kojo A. Quarthey
- ▶ "African Diaspora," by Edmund LaClair, assistant professor of history
- ▶ "The Negro Leagues," by legendary Negro League baseball player Ted Toles Jr.
- ▶ "African Peoples," by Xavier Allen, historian, actor and historical re-enactor

FINAL "COLLAGE" CONCERT PERFORMED

The final installment of the Monroe County Community College Collage Concert – "MC5, The Finale" – was held in February in the La-Z-Boy Center, Meyer Theater. The concert, hosted by MCCC's College/Community Symphony Band and Agora Chorale, featured a variety of local musical talent showcased in a fast-paced, multi-stage format. The first performance of the MCCC Collage Concert was in 2008. The Collage Concert concept brings together a diverse variety of musical fabrics and textures without the interruption of applause.

GAY/STRAIGHT ALLIANCE HOSTS PRIDE PROM

The Gay/Straight Alliance student club at MCCC hosted a Pride Prom in March in the Gerald Welch Health Education Building. The event was a chaperoned, safe event catering to LGBTQ – lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning – college and high school students and their "allies" throughout the area.

WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH RECOGNIZED

Monroe County Community College hosted an events series in March in honor of Women's History Month that included a film screening of "Girl Rising," a presentation by urban farmer Kate Daughdrill and a women's wellness fair.

Milestones, Partnerships and Events

As a community-focused institution, MCCC strives to make life and work more meaningful and rewarding for everyone we serve. However, this effort is never the product of a singular act; rather, it's the result of many people working together to support the events and partnerships that extend our "campus" far beyond our walls.

FACULTY MEMBER WINS GOLD MEDAL IN OHIO JURIED EXHIBITION

Ted Vassar, assistant professor of art at MCCC, was awarded a gold medal by the Ohio Watercolor Society for a painting, "Compositional Considerations." The painting and two others by Vassar were displayed at the 37th Annual Juried Exhibition, Watercolor Ohio, which took place at the Mansfield Arts Center in Mansfield, Ohio in fall 2014.

WHITMAN CENTER IN TEMPERANCE HOSTS NUMEROUS EVENTS

MCCC's Whitman Center Temperance hosted a number of events that were open to students and community members, such as the X-TECH Kick-Off, a career exploration event for those interested in applied science and technology; a presentation on the United States Merchant Marine by Vinnie Maltese, dean of the Math/Science Division; a "Conversation with the Community" event with President Dr. Kojo A. Quartey; and a resume and interviewing workshop.

MCCC WINS THREE AWARDS FOR COLLEGE COMMUNICATIONS

MCCC won three Medallion Awards for outstanding achievement in community college communications in November 2014 at the District 3 Conference of the National Council for (Community College) Marketing and Public Relations, which was held in Green Bay, Wisc. MCCC's awards included a gold for "Tech Update," the electronic newsletter of the Applied Science and Engineering Technology Division, and two silvers – one for the 2013 Annual Fund Campaign for The Foundation at MCCC and the other for Magazine-Style Video Program for MCCC's monthly cable access television show, "Education Matters."

THREE MCCC TRUSTEES SWORN IN; BOARD OFFICERS ELECTED

In January, William H. Braunlich, Lynette Dowler and Mary Kay Thayer were sworn in as trustees of MCCC during a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees. They were administered the oath of office by Judge Michael Weipert of Monroe County Circuit Court. Each is serving a six-year term. The Board of Trustees also elected officers. By a unanimous vote, Joseph N. Bellino Jr. was elected chair, Mary Kay Thayer was elected vice chair and Dr. James E. DeVries was elected secretary. Each will serve a two-year term.

LINKING COMMUNITY MEMBERS THROUGH READING

One Book, One Community of Monroe County 2015 featured more than a month of events in the spring that were planned around themes in "The American Way of Eating: Undercover at Walmart, Applebee's, Farm Fields and the Dinner Table (2012)," a New York Times bestseller by Tracie McMillan. The author visited MCCC for student workshops and a public book signing and presentation on April 15. One Book, One Community of Monroe County promotes the value of reading by recommending a compelling book that links community members in a common conversation through readings, group discussions, programs and other events.

A NIGHT OF FAMILY FUN

MCCC Student Government hosted Family Fun Night in April in the Gerald Welch Health Education Building, drawing hundreds of children and adults. This event, designed to be an inexpensive night out for families, featured various carnival-type games, prizes, refreshments, face painting, family photos, magicians, giant inflatables and more. The Foundation at Monroe County Community College and Siena Heights University were contributing sponsors.

48TH COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY HELD IN MAY; NARTKER, SHRYOCK HONORED

Monroe County Community College graduates were recognized during the 48th Annual Commencement Ceremony in May in the Gerald Welch Health Education Building.

Lana Shryock, retired professor of computer and information systems, was awarded the position of honorary grand marshal for the ceremony. She retired from MCCC in early May, following 22 years of service. Shryock led the college into a new era in computing education by bringing nine new programs and 16 new courses to the college in 1999-2000.

At the ceremony, the 2015 Alumnus of the Year Award was presented to Dr. Carrie E. Nartker, professor of English. She is a 1996 graduate of MCCC who went on to earn a doctorate in English literature with a cognate in gender studies from Wayne State University. Nartker has consistently taught a full course load of classes, including Creative Writing, Women's Studies, English Composition and Developmental English. She has played a key role in curriculum development and provided direction in the developmental education program at MCCC.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HOSTS FIRST-EVER ALUMNI MIXER

The MCCC Alumni Association hosted the first-ever MCCC Alumni Mixer in May. It was held at Public House Food + Drink, which is located at 138 N. Monroe in Monroe. Guests enjoyed free appetizers and beverage specials. The night featured raffles, games, prizes and entertainment by local musician Kevin Daniels.

MCCC ALUM PAUL W. SMITH HOSTS RADIO SHOW LIVE FROM MCCC

Nationally known WJR-AM (760) radio anchor and MCCC alum Paul W. Smith broadcasted a special edition of his morning news and talk show live from the college's La-Z-Boy Center in May. The special broadcast of "The Paul W. Smith Show" – which was jointly sponsored by Monroe County Community College, DTE Energy, La-Z-Boy Inc., Monroe Bank and Trust, Monroe County Intermediate School District and ProMedica Monroe Regional Hospital – focused on the many strengths of Monroe County, new local initiatives, and summer travel and tourism opportunities.

OKLEJAS NAMED "COLLEGE SUPPORTER OF THE YEAR"

The Monroe County Community College Board of Trustees recognized Eli Oklejas, founder and president of Fluid Equipment Development Company (FEDCO), with the 2015 College Supporter of the Year award for his past support and continuing commitment to MCCC. The award was presented in May during MCCC's annual Business and Industry Luncheon. Oklejas and FEDCO are steadfast supporters of MCCC and higher education, and in 2014 affirmed their support by endowing the FEDCO Science and Technology

Scholarship with gifts and pledges totaling more than $120,000. In addition, the north wing of the MCCC Career Technology Center now bears FEDCO's name in recognition of an $80,000 gift to the capital campaign to help build the facility.

RESPIRATORY THERAPY FACULTY PLACE THIRD IN NATION IN QUIZ BOWL COMPETITION

MCCC's respiratory therapy program faculty took third place at the national Respiratory Quiz Bowl competition sponsored by the American Association for Respiratory Care, which was held in Las Vegas. The team of Nicholas Prush, Shane Spaulding and Christopher Culter competed against teams from other states. Spaulding (class of 2010) and Culter (class of 2009) previously competed in the Michigan Society for Respiratory Care competition when they were students in the RT program.
