MONROE, Mich. – A section of Monroe County Community College's main access road will soon be closed between the Gerald Welch Health Education Building and Life Sciences Building to begin site preparation for the new Career Technology Center.

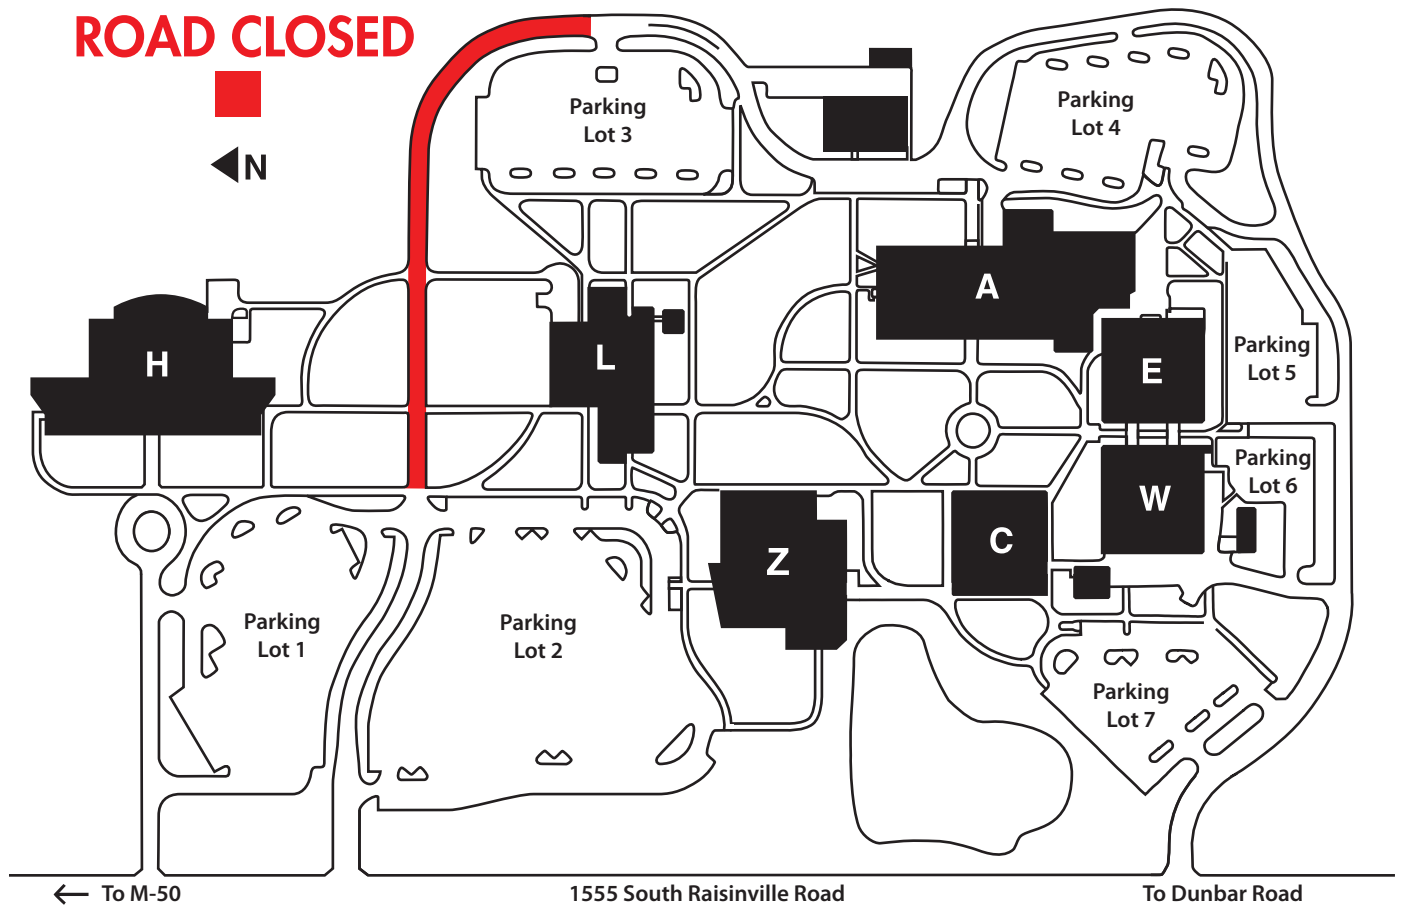

The road will be closed and realigned to accommodate the footprint of the new building. Site preparation will commence near the end of October.

Groundbreaking for the Career Technology Center will occur in spring 2012 with anticipated completion in fall 2013. The road will remain closed throughout the duration of the building's construction.

All college parking lots will remain open; however, they will only be accessible either through the college's north or south access roads.
