Course Information
Division: Humanities and Social Sciences
Contact Hours: 45
Total Credits: 3

Prerequisites
RDG 090, ENGL 090, or qualifying scores on ACT or COMPASS tests

Course Description
The course examines investigative procedures including theory, conduct, collection and preservation of physical evidence.

Course Outcomes
In order to evidence success in this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify various investigative techniques and activities central to a successful criminal investigation.
2. Recognize and differentiate various investigative techniques for crimes against people and property.
3. Acquaint self with the unique nature of investigations related to organized crime, drug related crimes, and gang related crimes.
5. Apply current legal standards to hypothetical situations of search and seizure and arrest.
6. Develop a strategy for conducting interviews and interrogation of criminal suspects, victims and witnesses.
7. Assess situations for surveillance activities, including proper techniques and risks.
8. Respect the importance of conducting fair and legal investigations.

Last Updated: October 2012
By: Penny Dunn