Course Description

This course focuses on helping students learn and use the skills of successful college students by providing an open forum for discussion that promotes self-awareness and a sense of belonging and purpose. We will explore the hidden curriculum of colleges, instructor expectations, and college norms that enhance grades and overall success by initiating students to college academics.

This will be achieved through various assignments encompassing writing, reading, learning skills, interviewing, and public speaking designed to help students understand the range of specific academic majors within broader disciplines and career choices. Students will attend, whenever possible, on and off-campus events connected to the discipline connected to the course.

This course is approved as a First-Year Experience course.

First-Year Experience Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

FYO1). Remember how to access and benefit from academic services and the expectations, policies, and resources of college life.

FYO2). Explore opportunities and career options within their chosen majors, and to identify academic programs and pathways.

FYO3). Develop critical thinking, teamwork, problem-solving, social responsibility, and communication skills through experiential learning in an academic setting.

FYO4). Integrate the above learned skills into a college-level academic course with separate academic outcomes. (If the course is a First-Year Seminar.)
